Beloit College to provide “tomorrow’s tuition at today’s prices” through Private College 529 Plan

Beloit, WI (September 10, 2014) – Beloit College today announced that it is now offering students a way to beat the rising cost of college tuition by joining Private College 529 PlanSM, a pre-paid tuition savings plan that allows participating families to lock in today’s tuition rates for future use.

Beloit is one of more than 275 private colleges and universities participating in Private College 529 Plan, which is sponsored and offered by its members to families who value a private college education for their children. As one of the member schools, Beloit will honor tuition certificates purchased at today’s tuition rates for up to 30 years, thereby offering families an opportunity to save thousands of dollars in future tuition bills.

“We are glad to join this consortium of institutions in offering such a valuable opportunity to families,” said Rob Mirabile, vice president for enrollment services at Beloit. “Beloit is already celebrated as a great value, and we’re pleased to have the chance to do even more to make our school as affordable as possible for students and their families.”

Beloit is the fifth private college in Wisconsin to participate in the Private College 529 Plan —Concordia University, Lakeland College, Lawrence University, and Ripon College are also participating member schools.

“How appropriate it is that Beloit College should mark National College Savings Month by offering families guaranteed tuition and a viable solution for their college planning strategies,” said Nancy Farmer, president of Private College 529 Plan. “Beloit is a great addition to our prestigious list of private colleges and universities across the country.”

Private College 529 Plan is offered by the Tuition Plan Consortium, LLC (TPC), a national group of private colleges and universities.
